the term spice and condiments applies to natural plant or vegetable products or mixtures in whole or ground form which are used for imparting flavour aroma and piquancy to the food items spices and condiments are a major commercial crop in india and earn a major part of foreign exchange annually they have been the backbone of agricultural industry the importance of spices and condiment in dietary medicinal and other uses and their commercial importance are immense india is known the world over as the home of spices thus spices are an important group of agricultural goods which are virtually indispensable in the culinary art spice processing includes different steps spice cleaning spice reconditioning and spice grinding some spices were also used for preserving food like meat for a year or more without refrigeration in the 16th century cloves for instance were among the spices used to preserve food without refrigeration cloves contain a chemical called eugenol that inhibits the growth of bacteria it is a natural antibiotic it is still used to preserve food like virginia ham likewise later mustard and ground mustard were also found to have preservative qualities india alone contributes 25 30 of the total world trade in spices it may be interesting to note that nine spices namely pepper ginger clove cinnamon cassia mace nutmeg pimento allspice and cardamom alone contributed as much as 90 of the total world trade pepper is the most important spice in the world and so also of india this book basically deals with brief history of spices uses of spices world trade in spices area production of spices in india area and production of spices in india major and minor spices of india spice processing quality issues with spices bird chillies and tabasco chillies basil or sweet basil seasoning blend duplication and tricks sauces and gravies snack seasonings quality issues with spices etc this book is a single compendium which deals with all aspects and facts of spices and condiments which may meet the requirements of all those handling them at various stages from harvesting to their end use this book contains post harvest management the potentials of genetic engineering high production technology in spices with plantation and processing of various spices and condiments such as vanilla turmeric tamarind saffron black pepper onion mint ginger garlic curry leaf coriander etc tribal communities in western india as elsewhere in the country have been facing increasing marginalisation and poverty this is so despite a relatively better record of social movements and work by civil society organisations among them and their political inclusion further the existing literature on tribals focuses more on their socio cultural situation and less on their economic and human development addressing this gap in scholarship this volume details the processes of tribal development and associated challenges in gujarat often viewed as a high growth economy rich in interdisciplinary empirical analyses the book comprehensively addresses three important aspects of tribal development human development economic opportunities and governance it critiques recent policy diagnoses and interventions rather than evaluate policy outcomes the volume traces the genesis of continued marginalisation of tribals in the country and contributes to the ongoing discourse on integrative tribal development the work will interest scholars and students of development studies tribal studies economics sociology social work as also policy makers activists and governmental and non governmental organisations in the field this open access book provides a clear holistic conceptual framework of ciss f competitiveness inclusiveness sustainability scalability and access to finance to analyse the efficiency of value chains of high value agricultural commodities in india it is based on the understanding that agriculture is an integrated system that connects farming with logistics processing and marketing farmer s welfare being central to any agricultural policy makes it very pertinent to study how a value chain works and can be strengthened further to realize this policy goal this book adds value to the existing research by studying the value chains end to end across a wide spectrum of agricultural commodities with the holistic lens of ciss f it is not enough that a value chain is competitive but not inclusive or it is competitive and inclusive but not sustainable the issue of scalability is very critical to achieve macro gains in terms of greater farmer outreach and sectoral growth the research undertaken here brings out some very useful insights for policymaking in terms of what needs to be done better to steer the agricultural value chains towards being more competitive inclusive sustainable and scalable the value chain specific research findings help draw very nuanced policy recommendations as well as present a big picture of the future direction of policy making in agriculture presents the results of many years fieldwork and research providing a complete reference to all the known mango species each is described with details on botany distribution and nomenclature before a discussion of the various aspects of cultivation and use
